Please note also that the "Not met" labels in the Explanation boxes below do not necessarily mean that the company does not meet the requirements as they are described in the bullet point short text. Rather, it means that the analysts could not find information in public sources that met the requirements as described in full in the CHRB 2019 Methodology document. For example, a "Not met" under "General HRs Commitment", which is the first bullet point for indicator A.1.1, does not necessarily mean that the company does not have a general commitment to human rights. Rather, it means that the CHRB could not identify a public statement of policy in which the company commits to respecting human rights.

E(2).0	Serious allegation No 2		• Headline: Kroger Supply chain alleged to be involved in slavery, human trafficking and forced labour in Thailand • Area: Forced labour • Story: In 2015 an investigative report by the Associated Press alleged slavery, human trafficking and forced labour at shrimp peeling facilities in Thailand that supply major supermarkets including Wal-Mart, Kroger, Whole Foods, Olive Garden a subsidiary of Darden Restaurants, and the retailer Dollar General.  The investigation focused on the Gig Peeling Factory in Samut Sakhon, which supplies the second largest Thai sea food supplier Thai Union as well as others, but makes clear there are other peeling sheds that also illicitly supply major exporters.  Employees at the Gig Peeling Factory were alleged to be migrant workers and children and were reportedly subject to human rights abuses including being beaten, detained, trapped, forbidden to talk with colleagues and forced to work 16-hours a day sometimes without pay. Most workers were migrants from Burma without visas or work permits, it was reported. They were sold by a broker with promises of well-paid jobs, but expected to pay their debt to the employer (the purchaser) or the boat owner. When complaining, employees are alleged to be threatened because of their illegal status. Documented migrants were also vulnerable because their employer held on to identification papers so they could not leave. • Sources: [Globe and Mail: theglobeandmail.com ][The Sydney Morning Herald - 02/07/2016: smh.com.au ][The Guardian: theguardian.com ][AP News: apnews.com ]

The material contained in the Benchmark does not constitute a recommendation to take any action or to buy or sell or otherwise deal with anything or anyone identified or contemplated in the Benchmark. Before acting on anything contained in this material, you should consider whether it is suitable to your particular circumstances and, if necessary, seek professional advice. The material in the Benchmark has been put together solely according to the CHRB methodology and not any other assessment models in operation within any of the project partners or EIRIS Foundation as provider of the analyst team.

No representation or warranty is given that the material in the Benchmark is accurate, complete or up-to-date. The material in the Benchmark is based on information that we consider correct and any statements, opinions, conclusions or recommendations contained therein are honestly and reasonably held or made at the time of publication. Any opinions expressed are our current opinions as of the date of the publication of the Benchmark only and may change without notice. Any views expressed in the Benchmark only represent the views of CHRB Ltd, unless otherwise expressly noted.

While the material contained in the Benchmark has been prepared in good faith, neither CHRB Ltd nor any of its agents, representatives, advisers, affiliates, directors, officers or employees accept any responsibility for or make any representation or warranty (either express or implied) as to the truth, accuracy, reliability or completeness of the information contained in this Benchmark or any other information made available in connection with the Benchmark. Neither CHRB Ltd nor any of its agents, representatives, advisers, affiliates, directors, officers and employees undertake any obligation to provide the users of the Benchmark with additional information or to update the information contained therein or to correct any inaccuracies which may become apparent (save as to the extent set out in CHRB Ltd's appeals procedure). To the maximum extent permitted by law any responsibility or liability for the Benchmark or any related material is expressly disclaimed provided that nothing in this disclaimer shall exclude any liability for, or any remedy in respect of, fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation. Any disputes, claims or proceedings this in connection with or arising in relation to this Benchmark will be governed by and construed in accordance with English law and submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales.

As CHRB Ltd, we want to emphasise that the results will always be a proxy for good human rights management, and not an absolute measure of performance. This is because there are no fundamental units of measurement for human rights. Human rights assessments are therefore necessarily more subjective than objective. The Benchmark also captures only a snap shot in time. We therefore want to encourage companies, investors, civil society and governments to look at the broad performance bands that companies are ranked within rather than their precise score because, as with all measurements, there is a reasonably wide margin of error possible in interpretation. We also want to encourage a greater analytical focus on how scores improve over time rather than upon how a company compares to other companies in the same industry today. The spirit of the exercise is to promote continual improvement via an open assessment process and a common understanding of the importance of the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.
