Company recommendations:

Targets: To be effective the company requires targets which account for the majority of its emissions.

Emissions reductions and reporting: The company’s activity and emissions reporting does not provide sufficient detail to give a full view of its decarbonisation progress and plans. Improved disclosure will allow for this assessment.

Transition plan: The company can improve the elements of its transition plan by ensuring it includes medium and long-term targets, verifiable and quantifiable key performance indicators and financial commitments. The plan should be informed by scenario analysis to ensure that the plan’s ambition is sufficient for a 1.5°C pathway.

<td>Targets</td>
<td>Net zero target (all scopes)?</td>
<td>No</td>
<td>The company has set a target to reduce CO2 emissions by 60% per mile by 2035, with an interim target of a 7.5% reduction by 2025. The boundaries and base years of the targets are unclear. The company’s operations include a substantial subcontracted transportation fleet therefore its targets should cover scope 3 emissions.</td>
<td>Remains the same</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Emissions reductions and reporting</td>
<td>Scope 1 and 2 emissions intensity disclosed?</td>
<td>No</td>
<td>The company does not disclose enough emissions, activity or emissions intensity data to meaningfully assess its performance against its 1.5°C pathway or carbon budgets.</td>
<td>Remains the same</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Transition Plan</td>
<td>Public transition plan?</td>
<td>Yes</td>
<td>Schneider is incorporating sustainability into its culture and has set near and mid-term goals to reduce emissions as part of this process. The company aims to double its intermodal capacity and it plans to add to its fleet of electric vehicles and reduce the energy use of its existing fleet. Its plans have not altered since the last assessment.</td>
<td>Remains the same</td>
